

Dragons

Eleen Emma L
Old Donation School, 7

She breathes fire,
Words burning everyone who opposes
She speaks her mind,
Not caring about any other opinion
She protects and inspires her own,
Being a powerful leader with a clear goal
She is a dragon.

But they're hunted
by knights hoping to save the 'damsel in distress',
Not knowing that the 'damsel' is the dragon.
Because of this,
They were going extinct, with few left in the world
Making them feel alone,
With nobody to believe in them,
Nobody to support them, their thoughts, or beliefs.
Are they still dragons?

But then they remember
how they lead,
how they inspire,
how powerful their words are,
how their ability to speak their mind sets them apart,
They remind themselves,
They are dragons.

Fueled with purpose,
Driven by our instincts,
Powerful words scarring our enemies,
We remind ourselves,
We are dragons..
