i am curious therefore i have a big imagination i wonder if i fly can i touch the moon as a result can i be the next robot i hear birds below me consequently they cant hear me i see people that look like ants since i am in the air i want to be a rocket ship flying around the earth because i will shoot off the asteroids i pretend to be flying around the earth saying hi to all of my friends around the world i feel curious maybe due to having a good imagination if i touch the moon then i will come back to earth to do my homework i worry what if i can't find my way back to my house so i will be hopeless i cry what if i run out of gas and drop from the moon to earth i understand the world is not perfect for this reason we pollute too much i say the world looks a little grey in effect of the plastic pollution i dream if i get stuck in a big crater and my rocket falls back to earth what am i supposed to do i try to get my mind to my homework for this reason i can snap out of my crazy dream i hope to fly someday around the earth
i am curious therefore i have a big imagination
