

Lost In Your Melody

You sweep me off my feet and captivate me with your lyrics.

You are sweet and lovely.

You cheer me up in my time of need.

Music, oh music, you will forever be by my side and in my mind.

When I think about you, I feel so frantic.

It's kind of hard to even understand it.

When I listen to you, I lose myself in your melody.

All my troubles disappear.

Your singing is sweet like honey, and I cannot get enough of it.

I want to play it over and over, not only in my mind but in my heart.

Even though I have never seen you, I know you, I love you.

I choose you!

You have a soul with you, a spark that lights up the whole world.

Although we are true lovers drifted by reality, a flame that can never be ignited.

My love for you shall never be extinguished.

Music, oh music, hear me cry

Music, oh music, with this I shall never lie.

Music, oh music, I love you so.

Music, oh music, I will never let you go.
