Please listen to me
Don't ignore me like I am a flea
Ok I agree
You may not have time
But I am trying to rhyme

You have only a lifetime
To do make many accomplishments
And achieve your goal
To make a difference and not live in a hole
You have one soul
That goes through all of the different bodies - even a tadpole
This cycle keeps its roll
But you have to take control
And get out of this loophole

By doing good deed after deed
And your brain you have to feed
By finding important books to read
You have to be a good leader and properly lead.
You have to prove yourself worthy indeed.
Then you will be freed.

When you are freed, you will reach liberation from work, anxiety, and stress
But I must address
That this is the omnipotent feeling that everyone wants nonetheless
Everybody wants this so you have to be the best of the best!
